Office Action Summary

Part of Paper No./Mail Date 20050203

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claim 1, in the last three lines, the phrase “a shock-absorbing device (30) attached pivotally to the rear end of the wheel frame (10) and the rear wheel bracket (20) at an angle other than perpendicular” is vague and indefinite because the angle can not be determine precisely. Is the angle not supposed to be not perpendicular in relation to the wheel frame, the rear wheel bracket, or both? The relationship of the angle needs to be more precisely set forth in relation to the other components of the skate.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Closser (US Patent 5,582,418). Closser discloses an in-line skate (10) with a shock-absorbing device comprising a boot (13) having a bottom (20); and a chassis attached to the bottom of the boot and comprising a wheel frame (12) with a top surface, a bottom surface, a front end, a rear end and a middle having a front wheel well formed on the bottom surface at the front end; and multiple front wheels (21,22) mounted rotatably in a line in the front wheel well; a rear wheel bracket (27,40) pivotally attached to the wheel frame near the middle, extending toward the rear end of the wheel frame and having a proximal end, a distal end and rear wheel well formed near the distal end; a rear wheel (23,24) rotatably mounted in the rear wheel well in the rear wheel bracket; and a shock-absorbing device (55) attached pivotally to the rear end of the wheel frame and the rear wheel bracket at an angle other than perpendicular.

Art Unit: 3618

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 2-6 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record in the accompanying PTO Form 892 and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
